A very old Manawatu settler in the person of Mr E; Westwood, Sen. died suddenly at Ballance of heart failure on Thursday. The deceased until a year ago, had resided at Foxton where he had lived continuously for thirty years. He was predeceased by his wife, but leaves a grown up family of six - three sons and an equal number of daughters. The sons surviving are Thomas, at present in the Old Country John the well-known blacksmith in Foxton and Edward engaged in the same trade at Bulls. The three daughters are Mesdames Trask and Chuck (Ballance) and Simpson (Foxton). Additional descendants are thirty-eight grandchildren and four great-grand-children.

ORDER (Reference RGO NZ birth registration 1866 folio website 1866/7932)

A researcher stated that Joseph Henry TRASK was born about 1840s in Wellington New Zealand. Joseph's mother Ann BARTLETT was born 25 August 1805 East Chinnock Somerset England and father Alexander HURLEY was born July 1805 Ireland and died 12 August 1876 Wanganui New Zealand occupation Labourer.

Joseph Henry TRASK cemetery details state that he was born on West Coast New Zealand

A family researcher believes that Joseph Henry TRASK was in fact Joseph Henry HURLEY born in 1845. If so he would have never known his father as Ann left Hurley only five weeks after they married. Whatever the truth Joseph was bought up as TRASK. He lived in or around Napier, Palmerston North and Foxton. Between 1869 and 1872 Joseph was a member of the Armed Constabulary and saw service at Waikaremoana in the hunt for Te Kooti. Joseph's marriage to Janette O'KEEP resulting in the birth of a son also named Joseph Henry TRASK. His second marriage was to the 17 year old Ellen WESTWOOD and this resulted in 6 male and 2 female children. In his last days Joseph was a dementia patient living at the Awapuni Rest Home Palmerston North. He was buried in the Terrace End Cemetery in Palmerston North.

Joseph H TRASK born about 1846 New Zealand Armed Constabulary division 1-3 service commenced 15 January 1869 service ended 21 November 1872 served at Waikaremoana joined at Napier previous service Wanganui Yeomany Cavalry Wellington Rifle Volunteers occupation labourer ID record 2974

Note - There is a strong possibility that Joseph Henry TRASK was in fact Joseph Henry HURLEY born in 1845. If so he would have never known his father as Ann formerly BARTLETT left Alexander HURLEY only five weeks after they married. Whatever the truth Joseph was brought up as a TRASK. He lived in or around Napier Palmerston North and Foxton. Between 1869 and 1872 Joseph was a member of the Armed Constabulary and saw service at Waikaremoana in the hunt fore Te Kooti. Joseph's married Jannette / Jeanette O'KEEPE resulting in the birth of a son also named Joseph Henry TRASK. His second marriage was to the 17 year old Ellen WESTWOOD and this resulted in 6 male and 2 female children. In his last days Joseph was a dementia patient living at the Awapuni Rest Home Palmerston North. He was buried in the Terrace End Cemetery in Palmerston North
