1913	De Thierry	Charles				21 Jan	A fatal error – Death of Charles De Thierry Charles DE Thierry, foreman of works for the Gisborne Harbour Board who removed to hospital on Tuesday night, suffering from carbolic poisoning, died from the results of his painful mistake at 1.30 this afternoon. It will be remembered that De Thierry who had been many years in the Board employ, and was a steady reliable man took a couple of mouthfuls of carbolic acid in mistake for home-made beer. Mr W A Barton, S.M., district coroner, decided to dispense with an inquest, deceased having made a statement as to his mistake and it being evident there was no blame attachable to anyone = Poverty Bay Herald 24 January 1913 page 6
1913	De Thierry	Charles				21 Jan	Carbolic Acid for Beer – Gisborne Jan. 21

							To night after finishing work Charles DE Thierry, a bachelor employed by the Harbour Board proceeded to his whare on the breakwater and took a long pull at a bottle of carbolic acid mistaken it for beer. He was conveyed to the hospital in a serious condition = Grey River Argus 22 January 1913 page 5

1920	De Thierry	Mr				02 Jan	Town Edition – The Huntly correspondence of the late Auckland Herald gives the following details of the railway accident, which caused the death of Mr De Thierry a member of a well-known Raniriri family. Mr De Thierry who was age 20 years of age was apparently walking along the railway line when he was struck by the train that left Auckland for Palmerston North at 8.40 on Wednesday night. The train travelling at between 35 and 40 miles an hour at the time. The engine driver and fireman were aware they had struck something but thought it must be either a cow or calf and consequently did not stop. When they pulled up at Frankton Junction however they found traces of a human being. The tablet porter at Rangiriri and a ganger set out on a jigger and found the dead body of Mr De Thierry. It is assumed that, as the train was a special one for the holidays Mr De Thierry was not keeping a look out for it and consequently met his fate. An inquest was held at Huntly when the coroner's finding was that deceased died through coming into contact with a moving engine no blame being attachable to the engine driver = Poverty Bay Herald 02 January 1920 page 6
