Wellington Independent newspaper 16 June 1864

Death of Mr Charles Mabey - Last night we received intelligence of the sudden death of Mr Charles Mabey, who was recently tried and acquitted at the Supreme Court, on a charge of obtaining money from the natives of false pretences. On Tuesday he was seized with an attack of palpitation of the heart, probably induced by the excitement of his trial, and died suddenly at the Upper Hutt yesterday morning. Mr Mabey was a very old settler, having arrived in the 'Olympus' in 1840. His life in the colony has been quite blameless and it was felt by his neighbours that it was only imprudence, not any guilty intention which resulted in his being brought to trial. The deceased was 66 years of age. He has left a wife and family to lament his loss.

Funeral Notice – (Charles Mabey) - The remains of this old and respectable settler were on Monday last consigned to their last resting place at the new Episcopalian Church, Upper Hutt, and despite the inclemency of the weather the funeral was attended by upwards of 250 fellow colonists who deeply mourned his loss, and took the opportunity of paying the last tribute of respect to his memory.

The Natives - A labouring man named Job Mabey has been driven off a section which he rented between the Hutt and Waiwetu by a party of Ngatikahuna's who inhabit a pah near Mr Mason's farm on the former river. These natives are described as a very ferocious and ill-looking set and though not over numerous on any case of emergency are reinforced by some of Rauparaha and Rangihaeata's mob besides all the Maories from up and down the Straits. They also receive an accession of numbers from Wairarapa. Mr Clarke the Sub-Protector went up to the spot on receiving information accompanied by a native but the latter refused to go to the pah alleging that his countrymen would tomahawk him. Mr Clarke then proceeded by himself but however the natives of Te Aro and Pipitea may submit to his guidance these natives are not inclined to do so and we are given to understand that they soon got into a rage with the Sub-Protector for his trouble and threatened him by word and gesture which soon obliged him to retire. The same natives have since given notice that they are going to take possession of a section for which our late lamented Mayor was agent. It is reported that the natives have determined to settle in large numbers in the Upper Hutt and clear a large quantity of land there. They quickly estimate the value of a good road to a good market nevertheless the Company cannot afford to expend their means for the Maori convenience in this manner and we hope at no distant date the new Governor will convince these people of the impropriety of squatting by ejecting them.

(Reference Papers past website New Zealand Spectator & Cooks Strait Guardian newspaper 10 February 1847 page 1)

Job and Rachel had a daughter Mary Ann MABEY born 24 July 1847 New Zealand. Anna MABEY was baptised 03 February 1850 Hutt Wellington New Zealand but I have been unable to locate the New Zealand birth registration.

I was informed that Job and Rachel had a son George MABEY born 16 October 1849 Wellington New Zealand and baptised 03 February 1850 Hutt Wellington New Zealand.

Job and Rachel MABEY had some of their children baptised on 03 February 1850 in the Hutt Wellington region. The children were George, Anna, Harriet and Robert Thomas MABEY.

Job and Rachel's daughter Harriet MABEY was previously baptised on 12 May 1850 then again on 03 November 1850 with her siblings. I believe Harriet died between 1850 and in 1856 the parents named their next daughter Harriet. The 2nd Harriet was born in 1856 and she died the same year.

Inquest - The sudden death of George Mabey who fell down in Willis Street on Saturday morning last and died within a few moments formed the subject of a coronial enquiry at the Morgue this morning before Dr Johnston the District Coroner when the following evidence was taken. Michael Wallace labourer deposed that on Saturday last shortly after 9 am he was in Willis-street and when opposite the grocery store of Mr Young he saw deceased lying on the roadway at the back of his cart. Witness went to the man's assistance and raised his head and remained with him till he died which occurred within about five minutes from the time he dropped down. The deceased died before Dr Gillon arrived. Deceased did not speak after falling down but he breathed stertorously just before he expired. He appeared to have fallen during a fit. George B Young grocer Willis Street stated that he had known deceased for ten years past and on Saturday last he was delivering chaff and had brought in a 50lb bag of chaff. He returned to his cart and witness shortly after this saw deceased lying in the street as described by the last witness. When deceased first went to witness shop he spoke and appeared to be in good health. He was very quiet and hardworking man and was a Wellington native. Dr Gillon who had made the post mortem examination gave evidence to the effect that on Saturday morning last he was called to see the deceased whom witness found lying in the middle of Willis Street near the Empire Hotel life being extinct. Witness endeavoured to restore animation by artificial respiration and other means but failed in the attempt. The post mortem examination disclosed the fact that the internal organs were very much congested but structurally they were quite healthy. The brain was healthy in structure but it was slightly congested. In witness's opinion the cause of death was failure of the action of the heart caused by a sudden spasm. The death was attributable to natural causes. Job Mabey settler at the Taita father of the deceased deposed that his son left home on Saturday morning shortly after 6 o'clock with a load of produce at which time he appeared to be in his usual health and he made no complaint of feeling unwell. Witness overtook decease in another cart at Ngahauranga and spoke to him when he seemed to be quite well. This was the last witness saw of deceased alive. Witness sometimes complained of pain in his heart and stomach but he never was laid up. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence.

Evening Post newspaper 29 July 1886

We allude to the decease of Mrs Mabey wife of Mr Job Mabey of the Taita which occurred yesterday. This worthy old lady with her husband came to Wellington in the ship Olympus in 1841 and has resided in this part of the colony ever since. Both Mr and Mrs Mabey have always been respected by all other settlers in their district and Mrs Mabey death is greatly regretted. She was 74 years of age and leaves a numerous array of children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren in various parts of the Wellington provincial district.

A typical old colonist Mr Job Mabey whose features have been preserved for posterity by the artist's brush of Mr J M Nairn died at the Taita this week quite unexpectedly at the age of 86. The old fellow had not been in his usual robust health lately being unable to sleep properly. On Tuesday morning he rose early for the purpose of cutting some oats and while talking to a neighbour fell down and expired quite suddenly. Deceased who arrived in Wellington by the ship Olympus in 1841 and settled at the Taita three years later was a celebrity in the district and though a rough diamond was of a genial and kindly disposition. He was buried in the old Taita Cemetery yesterday morning the Rev Mr Jones conducting the service.
