Evening Post newspaper 28 November 1890

Death of Mr Hart Udy Sen. - Greytown North This Day - Mr Hart Udy senior one of the colony's earliest settlers died here last night at the age of 82 years. About a fortnight ago while eating some rabbit soup he swallowed a bone which obstructed the food passage and prevented him taking solid food. On Tuesday night he had a rush of blood and the bone was discharged with it and it seems probable that the jagged bone pierced a blood vessel. Owing to some exertion on Wednesday a fresh flow of blood occurred and the lots weakened him so that he sank beneath it. He came out in the ship Roxburgh in 1840 the third ship and landed at Petone. He then carried on business as a builder and wheelwright by the stream near what is now known as Staples Brewery Wellington. He afterwards shifted to Waiwetu then to Stokes Valley and in 1856 came to Greytown where he supervised the making of the main road. He afterwards went into sheep farming at Matarawa and of late years has resided in Greytown. He was stout and hearty up to the last and was at work on Tuesday. He leaves four sons and three daughters, sixty-seven grandchildren, and sixteen great-grandchildren. He was a Justice of the Peace has been Mayor of Greytown for two or three terms and had served on the Road Board. He was a member of the Wesleyan denomination and preached two sermons last Sunday. The funeral takes place on Sunday at 2 o'clock. Deceased was very widely known and highly esteemed and his funeral will be largely attended.

#Death of Mr John Udy - Memories of early Auckland are recalled by the death at the advanced age of 93 years of Mr John Udy of Underwood House Pakuranga. Born at St. Braock Cornwall Mr Udy landed in New Zealand on March 16, 1859 from the sailing ship Excelsior. In 1860 his father two brothers and five sisters followed him to New Zealand. The family started on their own account by renting a farm known as Edengrove consisting of 82 acres. The house was situated where the Mount Eden tramway terminus now is for several years with a dairy herd of 60 cows they delivered milk in Auckland. The only mode of transit was by horseback as there were no roads suitable for vehicles. Before leaving the Mount Eden district Mr Udy superintended the making of the present road from the mountain side to the tram terminus. He recalled that about 1860 there used to be a toll gate at the Eden Vine Hotel near the junction of Mount Eden Road and New North Road. The charges were 3d for a saddle-horse and rider and 9d for a horse and vehicle. On the outbreak of the Maori War Mr Udy joined the Auckland Cavalry Volunteer Corps under Captain Hardington and continued in the corps until the end of the war in 1868. The headquarters and stables were situated where the large establishment of John Court Limited in Queen Street now is. Each member of the corps had to supply his own horse and accoutrements personal clothing and boots. The Government supplied to each man a revolver carbine sword top-coat and rug. The pay allowance was a day and 3/ a day allowance for the horse but the pay was forthcoming only when the man were on active duty which was chiefly carrying dispatches and protecting the provision and ammunition wagons. In 1864 Mr Udy purchased his farm at Pakuranga but not until 1872 did he take up residence there. From that year he lived in the district and took a keen interest in all local affairs. For 12 years he acted as chairman of the Pakuranga Road Board which was merged in the Manukau County about 11 years ago reference National Library of NZ Papers past website Auckland Star newspaper 17 September 1932 page 11
