Assault with Intent - Regina v Thomas Gorman - The prisoner was indicted for having, on the 15th December last, committed an assault upon one Martha Wagg, a girl under 12 years of age, with intent to have unlawful carnal connexion with her. Mr Brandon conducted the prosecution, the prisoner was undefended. Mr Brandon stated the case to the jury, and called the following witnesses Martha Wagg deposed, - I live at the Hutt, my father's name is Wagg. I know the prisoner at the bar. I saw him one Sunday afternoon in December. I have seen him on another Sunday afternoon two days before I went before the Magistrate, I saw the prisoner on a Sunday afternoon. I saw the prisoner between Brown's and the Fern Ground. He had some conversation with me. I had cleaned me. I told Susan Hedge to go up the road. I went up the road, till I saw Susan Hedge. As I was going up, I saw Gorman. Susan was not with me, she was on a bit farther; when I met him, he said Ain't you going to walk along with me, and I said No. I went on to Susan Hedge, I called into a person's house, and took a little girl up the road went on further. I came back, and took the little girl home again I went into another person's house, and had some tea, and then went, towards home. I found Gorman sitting on the grass on the road Gorman said, Ain't you going along with me, and I said, "No." He then said, I have got some lollies for you if will come along with me. I then walked on the road a little way, and I began to run, and he ran after me. When I got a goodish way, he got hold of me, he offered me a shilling I was a goodish way off when he offered it to me he gave me the shilling it was then that I ran away he caught me he asked me if I would go into the bush, and I said no. He then caught hold of me round the waist with his two hands. I was trying to get away, and he put his hand over my mouth. He took one of his hands from my waist, and put it over my mouth. He wanted me to go into the bush. I would not go. He said if I would go into the bush a little further, he would let me go just now. I tried to get away, and began to cry. He carried me into the bush, about twenty feet from the road. He then asked me to lie down, and I would not. He then laid me down on the ground, I tried to scream he then put a handkerchief over my mouth. He said when I was screaming, everybody will hear me, I said I don't care. I said if he did not let me alone, he would be put in choky. [This portion of the evidence is unfit for publication. The prisoner affected his purpose, but did not commit the capital offence.] He was lying down by the side of me a goodish while I wanted to straighten my hair, but he would not let me do it. He gave me two shillings, I took it. By the Court, - I got up, and straightened my hat, and saw Rouse, Pike, and Stevens; they came up just as I was straightening my hat they saw me first, I did not call out to them. (The witness being unable to swear to a mark affixed to a certain affidavit, a constable was called, who proved the cross of the witness to affidavits taken before the Magistrates at the Upper Hutt.) By the Court - In the deposition taken at the Hutt, you say that you went to him for the shilling, to day you say that he came to you with it, which is true He came a little way, and I went a little way; he put a hanker chief over my mouth. Cross examined by the prisoner, I had not conversed with you very often before I saw you in Brown's hay field I brought you some grog and beer to a hay field I proffered to walk with you every Sunday for 2s. per week, but I did not mean to do it the nearest house to Brown's is Lawson's the first house I went into was Hackets; I did ask you to lift me over the ditch; I did not ask you to put a handkerchief over my hat to keep the rain off; I saw Stevens and House first; Pike was about five yards off at the time we were about 20 feet from the road I was trying to get away from you at the time I said, now the men have seen us I said I would tell father; I did not tell father, I told Mrs Brown on Monday. Mrs Brown heard the two shillings jingling in my pocket, and wanted to know where I got the money I told my mother on Tuesday. By Mr Brandon, Prisoner asked me about marrying he said that he knew a girl about my age who had got married he asked my age, and I told him about 12 years. By the Court, Prisoner asked me if I would not rather get married to him than stay at Brown's I told him that I would tell him on Saturday I don't recollect when it was that I asked Gorman to put the handkerchief over my hat. Thomas Wagg deposed, I reside at the Hutt, and the little girl who has just been examined is my daughter. She was twelve years of age on the 12th of January last. We were married in 1847, we had a son born in September 1848, and Martha was born about eighteen months after the birth of the first child. I could give the correct dates, having them all down in my Bible, but all my papers were carried away in the great flood in 1858. By the Court, My wife is not here to day she was confined on Monday morning last, and is not able to travel. The wife's depositions were here put in, and read. By the Prisoner, I did not hear my wife give her evidence when I went to America in October 1849, my wife was then great with child. This child was born on the 10th January 1850, and was twelve years old on the 10th January 1862. I was not present before the Magistrates when my wife said that the child was born in 1849. I found out about this matter on Wednesday, I heard about it on Monday. My wife went up to Mr Brown's on Tuesday; my daughter was living there at service I enquired into the matter, and asked Rouse and Pike, and they confirmed the particulars. By the Court - We got the warrant for prisoner's apprehension on Wednesday; we were stopping until Mr Wardell came up, but as he did not come, we went to Mr Barton. I have four children I give them the best education I can there are no schools in the Upper Hutt now, Martha went to school before we left England, till she was about seven years of age. Charles House, deposed, - I reside at the Upper Hutt, and am a sawyer. I know the prisoner at the bar, and I also know a little girl named Martha Wagg. I was walking on Sunday afternoon, the 10th December, in company with two others along the Hutt road, when we heard a male and female talking in the bush, about half a chain from the road. We went to see who it was, and saw the prisoner and Martha Wagg. She began to cry, and said he had been pulling her about, and bending her hat. The girl then went out to the road, and I followed. Gorman came out after me, and said, I suppose it will be a serious charge, and wanted me to go and see Wagg, and make it up. I said that the girl could speak for herself. You could not see them from the road, because of the tea tree and fern. Prisoner first spoke to me about the charge. Cross examined by the Prisoner, I was in your company on Sunday afternoon, about two hours previous to the time I saw you there was no noise or struggling that I heard, Pike was not far off the road, he could not see you from the road. Martha Wagg was standing up when I saw her first, she was crying, she said that she would tell her father and mother. By Mr Brandon, It was in the afternoon; it was daylight. William Stevens deposed, I live at the Hutt, and am a sawyer. I know Gorman, the prisoner at the bar, and Martha Wagg. I remember seeing them together one Sunday, before the charge was made. I was walking along the road in company with Charles Rouse and Edwin Pike. We heard the voices of two persons & went in to see who it was. We saw the prisoner and Martha Wagg. The prisoner had just got up, and Martha Wagg went into the road. Gorman said to Rouse in my hearing that he thought it would be a serious charge, and would he try and settle it. I saw Martha Wagg when we went in, she was just making a start out of the bush. Cross examined by the prisoner, - I heard no scuffling. We could not hear the conversation, but could hear that it was civil. It was afterwards that I saw her crying. Edwin Pike deposed, I am a sawyer, and live at the Fern Ground, Upper Hutt. I know a little girl, named Martha Wag. On Sunday the 15th December, I was on the road with Stevens and Rouse. Stevens said, hold on there is a female's voice. The conversation was carried on in a gentle tone. We went into the bush, and I saw Martha Wagg standing, she turned round and saw me, and said, there now, that man has seen us. She said that she would tell her father and mother. She said that Gorman had taken her from the road, and stuffed a handkerchief in her mouth. Gorman said, Chaps, this will be rather a serious case. Cross examined by the prisoner, The girl dropped a sixpence. I called to her to come back, and pick it up, which she did, the girl's clothes appeared in a muffling condition, all tumbled like, your clothes were all right. Gorman addressed the jury at some length in his own defence. His Honour then summed up, and explained the law bearing upon the case. The jury, after a short consultation, returned a verdict of guilty of the attempt. His Honour then addressed the prisoner in a most solemn manner, told him that he had been found guilty of a most abominable and unmanly offence that he had previously been convicted for robbery with violence, and sentenced to four years imprisonment, and warned him to flee from his evil courses. The prisoner was then sentenced to two years imprisonment with hard labour. The Court was then adjourned until Monday at 10 o'clock.
