George William WOOD was a butcher who built a house named 'Acrefield' now situated at 4 Clyma Street Ebdentown Upper Hutt. Acrefield House is now known as Elderslea Manor. The house was built in the 1940s from a 1939 American New York World Fair design by a local George WOODS. The house is now Bed and Breakfast accommodation.

Mr Woods owned a butcher shop in Upper Hutt and perhaps has something to do with the building of the shopping complex known to locals as the Broadway shops.
