

1914-1918 – Upper Hutt School Children and their siblings

During the World War One period there were nine schools in the Upper Hutt district. The schools were (AK) Akatarawa, (KP) Karapoti, (KT) Kaitoke, (MG) Mangaroa, (SJ) St Joseph's Orphanage (Industrial School), (TM) Te Marua, (UH) Upper Hutt, (WL) Wallaceville and (WV) Whitemans Valley.

The Education Board classification lists record the names of the teachers as well as the children's names and ages for each year. The estimated number of children attending school for each year was, 1914 = 482, 1915 = 492, 1916 = 147, 1917 = 542 and 1918 = 485. The 1916 list was incomplete.

The Hutt Valley Independent newspaper also recorded the names of the School teachers but did not record any for the years 1917 and 1918. In the same newspaper the Upper Hutt School recorded the number of children on the rolls as 1915 = 305, 1916 = 321, and 1917 = 357.

The individual school admission registers record the names of the children's parent or guardian. By researching the New Zealand birth registrations I located the names of their parents. Some children were born in Australia or England while others were illegitimate making it difficult to locate their parents. By using the Wisers Directories and Electoral Rolls I was able to identify some parents. Unfortunately I was unable to locate the parents of some children specially the children boarding at the individual Government Receiving Homes or at the St Joseph's Orphanage.

SCHOOLS

To locate the number of children residing in the Upper Hutt district I have transcribed from the school schedules the pupil's name and age. I then researched the birth registration to locate the children's parents and details of younger siblings. If parents are unknown I have typed "unknown" and I have typed their guardians name in (brackets). For the children at St Joseph's Industrial school I have typed (orphanage). The results of this research give us a better understanding of just how many families were residing the Upper Hutt district during the World War One period. All Schools in the Upper Hutt district were closed during the 1918 Influenza epidemic. Teachers are also recorded. Source and reference information is located at the end of this section.
