

WORLD WAR TWO (1939 – 1945) SERVICE PERSONNEL

The Military Roll of Honour plaque in front of the Upper Hutt City Council building on Fergusson Drive Upper Hutt records the names of 17 World War One and 24 World War Two service personnel from the Upper Hutt district.

WORLD WAR TWO SERVICE PERSONNEL ASSOCIATED WITH UPPER HUTT

The plaque was the foundation stone for the list of World War Two Service Personnel associated with the Upper Hutt district. Other sources used were National Library of New Zealand, Papers past website, World War One Nominal Rolls, Commonwealth War Grave website, New Zealand Defence Force Archives, Archives New Zealand, Ancestry website plus various other resources and publications. I also hope to research the Returned Service Association Upper Hutt Branch early membership rolls for additional names and details.

This World War Two Service Personnel roll consists of [1] names from the plaque typed in blue [2] names of those who appear on the Commonwealth War graves website typed in red and [3] the remainder typed in black are the Service Personnel who were discharged after service. This document is a work in progress and will take many years of research and may never be completely finished but it is a beginning.

Territorial Service Call Up Total of 27,104 Wellington Area Quota 4112

A Gazette published yesterday contains the names of 27,104 men who have been called up for Territorial service. They comprise all the men in the first division of the General Reserve and four classes of the second division. Those in the first division are chiefly youths who have reached the age of 18 since the last list was issued and those in the second division comprise all married men without children from 18 to 45 years of age. The Gazette contains the note that the list includes the names of a number of men who have volunteered for service overseas and of some who are already serving in Home Defence units. The following are the numbers of men called up from the respective military areas - No. 1 (Auckland), 5566; No. 2 (Paeroa), 1308; No. 3 (Whangarei), 963; No. 4 (Hamilton), 1422, No. 5 (Wellington), 4112; No. 6 (Wanganui), 1705; No. 7 (Napier), 1877; No. 8 (New Plymouth), 1006; No. 9 (Nelson), 1395; No. 10 (Christchurch), 4211; No. 11 (Dunedin), 2126; No. 12 (Invercargill), 1413. The list below contains the names of those in the Wellington area. [I have typed in black all the Upper Hutt service personnel in the table below]

He received his secondary education at the Hutt Valley High School afterwards continuing by night classes at the Petone Technical College. When applying for enlistment in the Royal New Zealand Air Force on the 15th May 1941 he was employed by the Army Ordnance Depot at Trentham. Flight Sergeant Good was enlisted at New Plymouth on the 11th July 1942 and employed there on aerodrome Defence Duties until re-mustered to aircrew and posted to the Initial Training Wing Rotorua on the 2nd January 1943. He afterwards embarked for Canada on the 5th May to train under the Empire Air Training Scheme. Shortly after arrival there he was posted on the 23rd May to No 5 Booming and Gunnery School Dafoe Saskatchewan and then on the 22nd August to No 1 Central Navigation School Rivers Manitoba. Here on the 1st October he was awarded the Air Bomber Badge and promoted to the rank of Sergeant. While in the United Kingdom on the 1st April 1944 he was further promoted to No 1 "Y" Depot Halifax Nova Scotia for embarkation to the United Kingdom. Flight Sergeant Good arrived at No 12 R.Z.N.A.F. Personnel Despatch and Reception Centre Brighton on the 30th October and remained there until posted on the 18th January 1944 to No 9 (0) Advanced Flying Unit Westcott Buckinghamshire early in March for crewing up and completion of his training as Air Bomber of Wellington bomber aircraft. On the 10th August he was posted to No 5 Personnel Despatch Centre Blackpool for embarkation overseas to North West Africa and arrived there later the same month. Early in September he was posted to No 142 Squadron and commenced operations flying on Wellington Bomber aircrew. Flight Sergeant Good was a member of the crew of a Wellington bomber aircraft engaged during the night of the 17-18th September 1944 in an attack on Brescia Marshalling Yards Italy. The aircraft failed to return to its base and all the crew including Flight Sergeant Good were classified as missing. In due course his death was officially presumed to have occurred on the 17th September 1944. A post war casualty search revealed that the aircraft had crashed on the Bank of the River Po and that two identified and two unidentified members of the crew were buried in the Padua British Empire Cemetery. The body of Flight Sergeant Good was not identified and his name will be commemorated on a suitable memorial to the missing. reference New Zealand Defence Force Archive

He received his secondary education at the Hutt Valley High School passing the matriculation examination in 1932. He afterwards furthered his studies by attending accountancy classes with a commercial college. His sports were football and golf. His civilian occupation was that of a shipping clerk in the employment of Levin & Co., Wellington. In December 1939 he applied for ward service in the R.N.Z.A.F. Pilot Officer Leckie was enlisted for aircrew training on the 28th July 1940 at the Ground Training School Levin and was posted on the 25th August to No 3 Elementary Flying Training School Harewood where he commenced his flying training. He proceeded on the 28th October to No 2 Service Flying Training School Woodbourne and was awarded his flying badge on the 17th January 1941. He was commissioned as a pilot officer on the 8th February 1941 on the 26th February he embarked on the "Awatea" at Auckland to proceed to the United Kingdom. The journey was made by way of Canada and Pilot Officer Leckie arrived at No 3 Personnel Reception Centre Bourmouth on the 20th April 1941. He was posted on the 2nd May to No 53 operational Training Unit Heston Middlesex. While here he completed his training on Spitfire fighter aircraft. On the 16th June he was posted to no 616 squadron Westhampnett Sussex. On the 18th June when returning from his first operational flight Pilot Officer Leckie overshot on landing at Westhampnett and injured his spine. He was admitted to Goodwood Hospital and on his recovery was posted on the 12th September to No 610 Squadron first at Leconfield as pilot of a spit fire fighter he took part in nine operational flights bringing his total of operations to ten. These nine operations comprised four convoy patrols three armed reconnaissance flights a coastal patrol and a dusk patrol. On the 27th October 1941 Pilot Officer Leckie was carrying out aerobatics in a spit fire fighter. After completing a slow roll the aircraft went into a spin from which it did not recover and dived into the ground Pilot Officer Leckie being killed. He was buried in the churchyard at Leconfield East Yorkshire.
