Philip EISEMANN was the apprentice in Germany for Mr KARSTEN

Philip EISEMANN left NZ on 25 July 1844 on the ship "Joseph Albino" and settled in Clarendon South Australia. Mr KARSTEN paid for Philip's passage to Australia.

Philip EISEMANN married Johanna MULLER 1848 South Australia

Philip Eisemann married Johanna MULLER 1848 in the Holy Trinity church in Adelaide 1848 and lived in Clarendon.

Philip worked in his trade as a joiner / cabinet maker.

Philip and Johanna had 6 children, sadly several of them died.

Philip became naturalized although we are still trying to find his papers. Philip suffered from depression (any wonder after all they had been through) and in the Clarendon newspapers dated 06 September 1860 we found a series of stories that told us he went missing from home. He had been seen by some neighbours to be acting strangely before this. Eventually he was found hanging in a tree (suicide) by some boys. Because of their religious beliefs Philip was not buried in the main cemetery with his wife and children. Philips death registration recorded him as being an unmarked grave in the Kangarilla area. Basically somewhere in a paddock not even a headstone to say where he had come from and been.

Johanna lived a long life and became a dressmaker in the city of Adelaide living with her youngest daughter who ran a boarding house. She died in 1894. Stayed a strict Lutheran. Their middle daughter Elizabeth married Charles Sheidow (brother of Sam Sheidow who owned all the land that is now called Sheidow Park in Adelaide) this is our family line
