Arthur Faulkner being sworn said that on Wednesday April 26th about eleven o'clock in the morning I was at work near Mr Cruickshank saw mill I heard a whining noise from where the children were playing they were lighting fires about the logs at first I took no notice but after a little time I saw that one of the children was alight. They were some distance from me at the time probable over a hundred yards I at once went to the child and took off its clothes as quick as possible the outer cloths were destroyed by the fire before I reached her and the rest I took off. The child was then carried into the house deceased severely burnt very much in every part of the body except her feet. Nobody was actually on the spot where the fire originated the elder sister having just left deceased before she got alight. Deceased is five year of age. The child died about four o'clock in the afternoon. Signed A Faulkner

David Brown being sworn saith that on Wednesday morning I was at work at the bench in the saw mill the first I heard of the child being on fire was from Mrs Cruickshank's who was though the mill saying the children were on fire whence I got out of the mill I saw last witness running towards the children I followed & assisted to tear the clothes off the child. I then started off for the doctor. The fires had been alight the day before I saw one of them children put more wood on the fires the night previous signed David Brown

The late Mr J D Cruickshank of the Upper Hutt, was a member of the Wellington Provincial Council up to the time the provinces were abolished. Soon after his arrival in the colony in 1850 he fitted up for the late Mr Schultz the flour mill at Kaiwarra so well known to old residents of Wellington. He was afterwards attracted to Victoria by the gold discoveries, and it was on his return that he erected sawmills at the Upper Hutt for the Hon H W Petre. In the early days Mr Cruickshank held a commission in the Militia, and later on was captain of the Upper Hutt Volunteers. The funeral was the largest seen in the Upper Hutt. The service at the graveside was conducted by the Ven Archdeacon Fancourt, assisted by the Rev John Blackburn, of Canterbury, son-in-law of the deceased.

CRUICKSHANK miscellaneous information

James Duff CRUICKSHANK came from the Parish of Banff in Baniffshire Scotland. James's friend Alexander WINKS also came from the same parish. At some time Alexander's wife stayed in the Cruickshank family home. I have included the WINKS family genealogy just in case there is an additional connection between these two families.
