In the 1873 the Hutt Rifle Volunteers capitation roll listed Private John GOLDER. The roll stated that he enlisted on 08 November 1867.

John Golder's began in 1873 to recorded in (five) diaries a day by day account of John's working life as a road works foreman for the Hutt County. His dairies were held at Golder's Cottage but have now been transferred to Upper Hutt Archives. John continued to record his day to day working life in his diary up to his death in 1902.

In 1876 John GOLDER began to build a cottage at Main Road South Upper Hutt for his bride to be Jane MARTIN. This cottage has survived and is now a museum but the address has changed from Main Road South to 707 Fergusson Drive Upper Hutt.

In 1876 Jane nee MARTIN (later GOLDER) paid for 24 totara house blocks to E (Edwin/Edward) PIKE for Golders cottage.

Evening Post newspaper 25 November 1902

Fatal Accident at the Upper Hutt - A well-known County Official killed - Upper Hutt This day - This morning, while Councillor John Whiteman, with Mr John Golder, County Road Inspector, was driving in the neighbourhood of Trentham on a work of inspection, the horse bolted and the trap capsized, pinning Councillor Whiteman to the ground and throwing Mr Golder violently out. Mr Whiteman was injured across the spine, and Mr Golder was horribly mangled through the horse kicking him while he was prostrate. The injured men were conveyed to their residences, where they both lie in a precarious condition. Later Mr Golder died in great agony. Mr Whiteman is still in a precarious state. The announcement of the terrible death of Mr John Golder will come as a painful shock. A quiet, unassuming man, with kindness and benevolence in every line of his face, Mr Golder was one with whom acquaintance soon ripened into respect. He was a New Zealander, a native and long resident of the Hutt Valley, having been born at the Lower Hutt on 22nd July, 1819. His father, Mr William Golder, a poet of some note, arrived with the early Port Nicholson settlers per Bengal Merchant, in 1840. Deceased became a working foreman of road works in the district, and in May, 1893, was appointed Rate Collector, Inspector of Roads, Slaughterhouses, and Nuisances Valuer and Returning Officer for the Hutt County. Mr Golder leaves a large family, in addition to a wide circle of friends who will sincerely mourn his sudden death.
