Evening Post newspaper 08 July 1892

From further particulars to hand respecting the fatal accident at Whiteman's Valley it appears that it was Arthur Douglas Russell aged 9½ years on of Edward Russell who was killed. The boy with a younger brother had been playing at bush-felling. With his brother and another boy he was running away from a falling tree directly in the line of its fall. The other two got beyond the extremity of the tree but Arthur was caught and terribly crushed death ensuing within an hour. The event is made more sad from the fact that the mother was away for a brief holiday with a son at Levin.

Her grandfather was a lawyer in Berkshire England and her father Mr Edward Russell when 25 years of age. They resided for a time at Alicetown and later at Stokes Valley but subsequently acquired a property at Whiteman's Valley where they resided for the past 40 years. The late Mrs Russell who is survived by her husband, four sons, and one [sic] daughter took her share in the adventurous work of building up the settlement of Wellington in its infancy and had many exciting experiences with the Maoris.

Evening Post newspaper 18 May 1926

Mrs Eliza Russell of Whiteman's Valley who died recently at the age of 82 was a very old identity of the Wellington district. She was the daughter of the late Mr Thomas Charles Butler and was born in 1844 in the neighbourhood of what is now Cuba Street. Her father came to New Zealand in the year 1840 by the ship Coromandel. Mr and Mrs Russell were married in 1869 and lived some time at Alicetown and later at Stokes Valley finally settling at Whiteman's Valley and living there for forty years. Mr. Edward Russell survives his wife and there are four sons and one daughter also one brother remaining (Mr Roland Butler of the Upper Hutt). There are sixteen grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren. In the early days Mr and Mr. Butler shared in the excitements and dangers of pioneer, and Mr. Butler was always admired for her bright and fearless disposition, being as well exceedingly kind and charitable. A great-uncle of Mrs Russell was the Rev. J G Butler who came out to New Zealand in 1818 travelling and teaching the Natives till 1826 when he left for Sydney. It was on his recommendation that Mr T C Butler came out to this country. The Rev. Mr Butler returned here in 1840 with the New Zealand Company's settlers, holding a New South Wales commission as Magistrate. He lived at Petone for some years and died there. One of his daughters was the wife of Mr Barton a well-known resident of the Wairarapa at the time.

- #From further particulars to hand respecting the fatal accident at Whiteman's Valley it appears that it was Arthur Douglas Russell aged 9½ years on of Edward Russell who was killed. The boy with a younger brother had been playing at bush-felling. With his brother and another boy he was running away from a falling tree directly in the line of its fall. The other two got beyond the extremity of the tree but Arthur was caught and terribly crushed death ensuring within an hour. The event is made more sad from the fact that the mother was away for a brief holiday with a son at Levin reference Papers past website Evening Post newspaper 08 July 1892 page 2

Another pioneer settler of the Hutt has passed away Mr Edward Russell at the ripe age of 79. He was a native of Kent and came to New Zealand in the ship "Lord William Bentinck" in 1841. In the primitive times he commenced road making from Wellington to Kaiwarra. Afterwards he bought land at the Nai Nai and was married to Sarah Tavener in 1845. Later on he went further to the backwoods and took up a larger area of land at Stokes Valley. About three years ago his health began to fail and he came down again to the Lower Hutt to be near medical aid. He leaves a widow and a grown-up family of seven, three sons and four daughters, all of whom are married. He will be buried in the Lower Hutt Anglican Cemetery by the side of his brother, tomorrow.
